PRO SE PETITON FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

TO THE HONORABLE COURT:

PRO SE PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Petitioner, IBRAHIMA DIALLO Pro-se has presently been detained by federal immigration authorities for a total of Six months while awaiting removal to SENEGAL, the country of his birth, and SENEGAL, the country that has refused to issue travel documents to him. Petitioner was ordered removed by Immigration Judge or Board of Immigration Appeals on 09-23-2008 Petitioner entered immigration custody on 09-23-2008 and has been detained in the following immigration detention facilities: PORT ISABEL Detention Center AND WILLACY Detention Center, where he has languished for more than (6) Six months. Petitioner files this petition for a Writ of Habeas Corpus to remedy his ongoing detention in violation of the Supreme Court's decision in Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U. S. 678 (2001). Petitioner does not challenge the validity of the removal order against him. Rather, he challenges his continued detention by Respondents, who refuse to release him even though they are unable to deport him and will not be able to deport him in the reasonably foreseeable future. Petitioner states as follows:

JURISDICTION

1. This action arises under the United States Constitution and the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, 8 U. S. C. § 1101 et seq. ("INA"), as amended by the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-132, 110 Stat. 1214 and the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigration Responsibility Act of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-208, 110 Stat. 1570. This court has jurisdiction over this petition for writ of habeas corpus under 28 U. S. C. § 1331. Petitioner is presently in custody under color of the authority of the United States, and such custody is in violation of the Constitution, laws, and treaties of the United States. See Zadvydas v. Davis, 533 U. S. 678 (2001). This court may grant relief pursuant to 28 U. S. C. § 2241, and the Writs Act, 28 U. S. C. § 1651

VENUE

2. Venue in this District is proper under 28 U. S. C. § 1391 because the Officer in Charge who makes custody decisions in Petitioner's case is located within the judicial district.

EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTARTIVE REMEDIES

3. Petitioner has exhausted his administrative remedies to the extent required by law. Petitioner's various though unsuccessful efforts to assist in his removal are irrelevant to the question of exhaustion. No statutory exhaustion requirements apply to Petitioner's claim of unlawful detention, and the only remedy for his continued unlawful indefinite detention is by way of this judicial action.

  - A.) Written 3 Travel Documents Requests on October 23,

    November 23, 2008 and December 23, 2008 to his consulate asking them to issue travel documents.
  - B.) Called his consulate to ask for assistance for the issuance of travel documents about (2) times.
  - C.) Provided Immigration and Custom Enforcement (ICE) with the following documents or information to assist with his Removal: Birth Father's Name, and Birth Mother's Name, Port of Entry.
  - 17. The response from the consulate of Embassy was as follows: (The consulate or Embassy staff is hired by your home country and is in charge of issuing permission to you to return to that country once your identity and nationality can be verified. There should be a way to call you consulate for free from the jail. Consulate and Embassy staffs are not the same as deportation officers.)

  - 18. To date Petitioner has spent a total of 180 days languishing in administrative immigration detention.
  - 19. Petitioner is unlikely to be removed in the reasonable foreseeable future.

EQUAL ACCESS TO JUSTICE ACT

20. The Equal Access to Justice Act ("EAJA"), 28 U.S.C. § 2412, permits this Court to award attorney fees and costs to Petitioner if he prevails because this action is a civil action brought against agency officials and an agency of the United States.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT ONE

STATUTORY VIOLATION

- 21. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference all paragraphs above.
- 22. Petitioner has been in the physical custody of the Department of Homeland Security ("DHS") and Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement ("BICE") for more (6) Six months. He has repeatedly applied for travel documents from the government of SENEGAL who not issued travel document. Petitioner has described in paragraphs 16 and 17 above attempts made and responses given for why he has not been deported. Based on these efforts and responses, and the length of Petitioner's administrative detention, the United States government is unlikely to be able to effect his deportation in the reasonably foreseeable future.
- 23. Petitioner's detention in federal custody violates § 241(a) (6) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. § 1231(a) (6), as interpreted by the U.S. Supreme Court in Zadvydas. The six-month presumptively reasonable period of detention to allow for removal efforts has lapsed. Petitioner is unlikely to be deported in the reasonable foreseeable future, among other reasons, due to long-refusal of the SENEGAL government to issue travel documents to Petitioner. The U.S. Supreme Court held Zadvydas that the continued indefinite detention of an alien in Petitioner's circumstance is not authorized by INA § 241(a) (6). See Zadvydas, 533 U.S. at 689, 699.

COUNT TWO

SUBSTANTIVE DUE PROCESS VIOLATION

- 24. Petitioner re-alleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 to 27 above.
- 25. Petitioner's continued indefinite detention violates his right to substantive due process by depriving him of his fundamental liberty interest. The U.S. Supreme Court recognized in Zadvydas that aliens in Petitioner's circumstances, who are admitted to the United States and subject to a final order of removal, yet languish in detention pending their illusory removal to their countries of origin, are protected by the Due Process Clause. Id. at 690-95. They may only be detained for a period of time reasonably necessary to secure their removal. Id. at 689.
- 26. Zadvydas established that although the Government ordinarily secures an alien's release during a ninety-day removal period, the government has six months during which it is presumptively reasonable to detain an alien. However, once that six-month period has elapsed, where there is good reason to believe that there is no significant likelihood of removal in the reasonably foreseeable future, the government must respond with evidence to the contrary.
- 27. There is very good reason to believe that Petitioner is not likely to be removed in the reasonably foreseeable future. Namely, 1) federal immigration authorities have been unsuccessful at removing Petitioner to SENEGAL even though they had more than sufficient time during the Six months during which Petitioner has languished in detention. Additionally, efforts made by Petitioner to assist in his deportation, described in paragraphs 16 and 17 have been unsuccessful in obtaining travel documents for Petitioner.
- 28. Because Petitioner is not likely to be removed in the reasonably foreseeable future, the government does not have the authority to continue this deprivation of Petitioner's liberty. The due process clause requires that the deprivation of Petitioner's liberty be narrowly tailored to serve a compelling government interest. While the government does not have would have a compelling government interest in detaining an alien in order to effect his removal, such interest does not exist when the alien cannot be removed. Because Petitioner will not be removed in the foreseeable future, his detention is not narrowly tailored to serve a compelling government interest and violates his right to substantive due process under the U.S. Constitution.

COUNT THREE

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Petitioner requests that this Court:

1. Assume jurisdiction over this matter.

2. Issue a Writ of Habeas Corpus directing Respondents to immediately release Petitioner from custody.

3. Award Petitioner reasonable costs; and

4. Such further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

Respectfully Submitted
